

A light of hope for those worried about lung cancer

See how the new lung cancer screening could give you a brighter future.

If you are a current or former heavy smoker between the ages of 55 and 80, chances are you've wondered if you could have lung cancer. Now there is an easy and painless lung cancer screening available. Early detection could save your life. Talk to your healthcare provider about lung cancer screenings, and let us light the way to answers at michigan.gov/cancer.